

Think of Them as a Bonded Pair

When a bonded pair finds a new home, it's a special combination. The same is true for the CareCredit health and pet care credit card and Pets Best Pet Health Insurance. There's a real benefit to having both! That's because they work in harmony to help your clients be financially prepared to provide their pets a lifetime of care.

Here's how they work together:

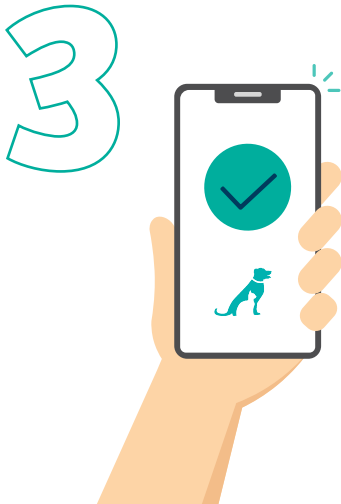

A client brings her dog in for treatment

After Jake swallows a toy, Abigail makes an appointment right away.

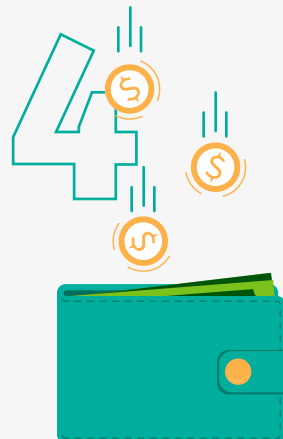

Client pays with her CareCredit credit card

You recommend surgery and Abigail uses her CareCredit credit card to pay for the procedure.

Client files a claim with Pets Best

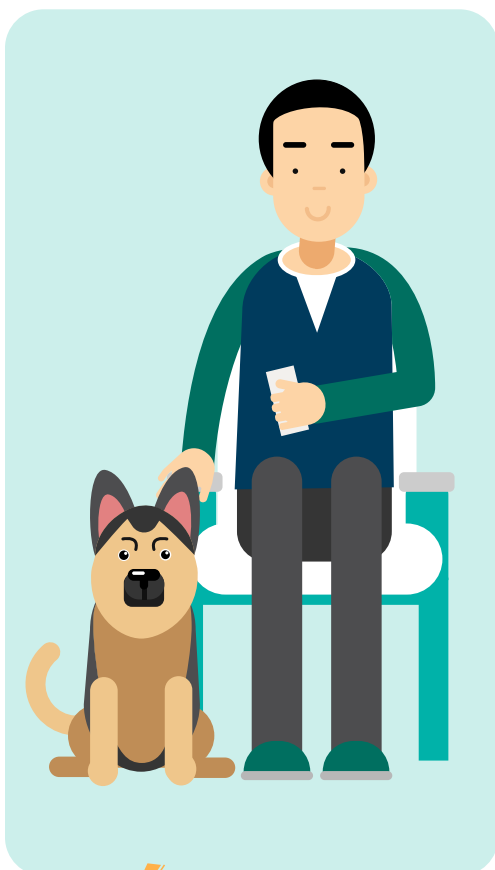

Abigail files a claim for the surgery on the Pets Best mobile app.

Client is reimbursed for eligible expenses

Abigail receives reimbursement from Pets Best. Thanks to CareCredit and Pets Best, Abigail has peace of mind that Jake received the treatment he needed.

The benefit of having both.

Help Clients Be Better Prepared

Many pet parents don't realize how much it costs to provide care for the life of their pet. As a result, they may not have a plan for paying these expenses along the way. Pets Best and CareCredit offer a more complete financial solution—helping pet parents pay for care while avoiding a major financial setback.

The 15-year cost of a lifetime of care for pets^{1,2}

Dogs

$19,893 - $55,132

Monthly:

$111 to $306

Cats

$15,055 - $45,790

Monthly:

$84 to $254

An invoice of just $250 or less may cause stress for pet parents.¹

What pet parents with both are saying:

“Excellent coverage for the premiums paid... System works better if you have CareCredit to pay the vet bill... You can then pay off CareCredit with the reimbursement money received from Pets Best.”

Philip G.

“I chose Pets Best because they were aligned with CareCredit, which I have used and liked for years. Pets Best also offered insurance for well check-ups and vaccines, which I was looking for.”

Nancy F.

With CareCredit and Pets Best, clients are ready for a lifetime of healthy decisions for their pet.
