IT'S ON WHAT YOU SPEND YOUR TIME

We know veterinary technicians are the backbone of the veterinary industry with a compassionate, can-do attitude when it comes to helping pets in need.

At ACCESS, our techs are good at this. Not just because we select great people, but because they are able to work on hundreds of diverse cases under the guidance and support of some of the best doctors in the US. So, if your passion is to care for animals, then what better place to do so than where you have the cases, supportive teammates, cutting-edge equipment, and the leadership encouragement to do what you love – caring for sick and injured animals with like-minded people.

Now we're looking for veterinary technicians of all levels for positions in our specialty and emergency departments. To find out more, scan QR codes to email Jennifer or Joseph, who are ready to assist.

TIME

Spend time with us.

At ACCESS Specialty Animal Hospitals, our Techs are enabled to practice top-notch veterinary medicine in state-of-the-art hospitals located in some of the most desirable locations – California and Florida.

In return, we offer industry-leading pay and benefits, flexible scheduling, and the personal and professional support of larger organizations, but with a comforting and friendly culture found in smaller practices.

So, if you're an affable, professional, fun-loving team player and want to provide excellent veterinary medicine with equally amazing people, we'd love to hear from you. Now we're looking for veterinary technicians of all levels for positions in our specialty and emergency departments.
